1. Notified all concerned that the proposed trip [ ] was cancelled due to the fact that few, if any, members of the Congress evidently would be able to attend. No members of the House Committees were able to come, and only Senators Chavez and Dworshak appeared to be interested on the Senate side. In notifying the various offices of the cancellation, I indicated that we would try to arrange such a trip in the future, probably around the beginning of the next Congressional session. Due to a misunderstanding, it appears that the invitation to the Subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee was extended to a great many members of the full Committee, which may present us with something of a problem next fall if we want to suggest a similar trip. Senator Dworshak's office was very much interested in this trip, and I had to inform them that we would of course let him know if the invitation were renewed at some future date.

2. The Director approved a recommendation to cancel the Congressional trip [redacted] on 27 and 28 April, in view of the fact that only Senator Chavez appeared definitely available for the trip. All committee staffs have been notified, and notified further that this represents a postponement and not an abandonment of the idea of such a trip. Those who I have contacted personally on this matter have advised that early in the next session of Congress would probably be the best time.
